TALKTOLS

ON THE CURRENT COMEDY CLIMATE
 Comedy has always been about pushing boundaries, but that's impossible when you can't make people feel uncomfortable, onstage or off. ["How to Laugh in the #MeToo Era," April]. The comics in this article talk about the physical antics of people like Louis C.K., but not the censorship of thought and speech for the most minor things. Remember when George W. Bush and the religious right tried to get Howard Stern kicked off the air? Now it's the left censoring every little sexual thing.

ON CHICAGO'S NEW WAVE OF KETAMINE CLINICS
 Ketamine is not a "dub-drug-turned-therapy." ["The Big Dip," April], implying that is irresponsible. This is a legitimate, FDA-approved anesthetic that has been used for 50 years. It is used in operating rooms around the world daily. The fact that some irresponsible people abuse it has nothing to do with medicine or science.
